SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER COALITION BUILDING:

In addition to providing resources online, America First Parents actively builds a robust school board network. With the help of state chapter Executive Directors and advanced research, the team identifies and reaches out to America First-aligned school board members, offering tailored resources as needed.

FOIA REQUESTS AND ACCOUNTABILITY:

America First Parents is committed to holding teachers, administrators, and leadership accountable. To date, the team has submitted over 300 open records requests to school districts, aiming to uncover and address radical gender and critical race theory and parental rights violations.

PROTECTING PARENTAL RIGHTS VIA LITIGATION:

America First Parents is dedicated to defending parental rights. In a recent case in Colorado, a family alleged that their rights were violated by school officials who:

1. Solicited their 12-year-old daughters to attend after-school “Genders and Sexualities” lectures;
2. Convinced the young girls that they were transgender;
3. Encouraged the children to hide their attendance and gender status from their parents; and
4. Willfully concealed the content of the lectures from parental notice.

With the assistance of AFPI’s Center for Litigation, a lawsuit was promptly filed to address these grievances.

America First Parents stands at the forefront of holding schools and school board members accountable and empowering parents with the information and tools they need to safeguard their children’s education and foster meaningful change.
