

AMERICA FIRST POLICY INSTITUTE PRESENTS

AMERICA FIRST

Nominees

BROOKE L. ROLLINS

Secretary of the Department of Agriculture

Brooke Leslie Rollins is originally from Glen Rose, Texas, a small agricultural community characteristic of much of the American heartland. She grew up working summers on her family's farm in Minnesota, helping with corn, potato, and soybean crops. During the school year in Texas, she barrel raced and raised animals for 4-H and Future Farmers of America (FFA). Rollins now serves as the President and Chief Executive Officer of the America First Policy Institute (AFPI). She was formerly Director of the Domestic Policy Council and Assistant to the President for Strategic Initiatives in the White House under President Donald Trump, where she also previously served as Director of the Office of American Innovation. In these roles, she developed and managed the transformational domestic policy agenda of the Trump Administration, leading to historic achievements for the American people.

AMERICA FIRST CREDENTIALS

What Does Brooke Rollins Stand For?

SUPPORTS

- ✓ Strengthening Domestic Food Security
Emphasizing the importance of reinforcing the American food supply chain through domestic agricultural production to maintain independence during geopolitical and economic crises.
- ✓ Reducing Regulatory Burdens
Eliminating unnecessary federal regulations, such as the Waters of the United States rule, which imposes significant financial and operational burdens on farmers and ranchers.
- ✓ Empowering Rural Communities
Supporting infrastructure investments, such as rural broadband access, to ensure equitable economic development for rural communities that depend on agriculture as their economic backbone.

OPPOSES

- ✗ Green New Deal Policies
Rejects radical environmental policies like the Green New Deal, which impose excessive regulatory hurdles on farmers and ranchers, threatening their productivity and sustainability.
- ✗ Government Overreach in Agriculture
Opposes federal policies that undermine property rights and overregulate agricultural practices, which she views as detrimental to the success of family farms and rural economies.
- ✗ Rising Food Costs Linked to Ineffective Policies
Highlighted how poor federal policies exacerbate inflation and food prices, urging for reforms to alleviate the burden on American families and ensure food affordability.

AMERICA FIRST POLICY INSTITUTE PRESENTS
AMERICA FIRST Nominees

BROOKE L. ROLLINS

Secretary of the Department of Agriculture

ADDITIONAL BIO

Brooke Leslie Rollins is originally from Glen Rose, Texas, a small agricultural community characteristic of much of the American heartland. She grew up working summers on her family's farm in Minnesota, helping with corn, potato, and soybean crops. During the school year in Texas, she barrel raced and raised animals for 4-H and Future Farmers of America (FFA).

Rollins now serves as the President and Chief Executive Officer of the America First Policy Institute (AFPI). She was formerly Director of the Domestic Policy Council and Assistant to the President for Strategic Initiatives in the White House under President Donald Trump, where she also previously served as Director of the Office of American Innovation. In these roles, she developed and managed the transformational domestic policy agenda of the Trump Administration, leading to historic achievements for the American people.